Frank Stillwell Murdered at Tucson—Friends of the Earp Party Supposed to be the Perpetrators.

[Associated Press Dispatches.]

TUCSON, A. T., March 21.—This morning, at daylight, the trackman at the S. P. R. R. depot found the body of Frank Stillwell about one hundred yards north of Porter's hotel, at the side of the track riddled with bullets. The circumstances of the case, so far as learned, are as follows: Stillwell arrived here Sunday to appear before the Grand Jury on the charge of stage robbery near Bisbee last November. He was under bonds for his appearance. Last night when the west-bound passenger train arrived it brought the remains of Morgan Earp, who had been killed Saturday night at Tombstone, and his three brothers, accompanied by Sherman McMaster, Dock Holliday and a man known as Johnson, all heavily armed with shotguns and revolvers. A few moments before the train started Stillwell and Ike Clanton, brother of the Clanton who was killed in Tombstone by the Earps, went to the depot to meet a man by the name of McDowell, who was to have come in as a witness before the Grand Jury. On their arrival at the depot they saw the

EARP PARTY.

Walking on the platform. Stillwell advised Clanton to leave at once, saying they wanted to kill him. Clanton left. A few moments later Stillwell was seen walking down the track in the direction where his body was found. Four of the armed men who were on the platform soon followed. One was described as a slender, light-complexioned man, wearing a light hat. Just as the train was leaving six shots were heard in the locality of the assassination, but attracted no particular attention, and nothing was known of the tragedy until this morning, when the body was discovered. Six shots went into his body, four rifle balls and two loads of buckshot. Both legs were shot through, and a charge of buckshot in his left thigh and a charge through his breast, which must have been delivered close, as the coat was powder-burnt, and there were

SIX BUCKSHOT HOLES

Within a radius of three inches. Stillwell had a pistol on his person which was not discharged. He evidently was taken unawares, as he was desperate in a fight and a quick shot. His watch was taken in the hurry, of which a part of the chain was left. There is much excitement here concerning the assassination, and many speculations are rife. Some say that he was decoyed to the spot where he fell, as he possessed strong evidence against certain stage robbers. Others think he was trying to get away from the Earp party and was overtaken, while it is thought by some that he went down the track to shoot one or more of the Earp party as the train was moving out, two of them being on board. The killing is thought to have been done by four of the party who accompanied the Earps here, as the four men who followed the deceased down the track were not seen again. This morning at one o'clock, as the east-bound freight train approached Papago, nine miles east of here, it was flagged and got on the train. They are strongly suspected. The deceased was twenty-seven years of age, was a native of Texas, and is a brother to the famous Texas scout, Jack Stillwell. He has been in Arizona four years, was a teamster at Signal for some time, and lately has been keeping a livery stable at Charleston and Bisbee, and was an ex-Deputy Sheriff of Cochise county. Yesterday Ike Clanton received several dispatches from Tombstone warning him to look out, that a party was coming down to put him out of the way, which placed him on his guard. The authorities here are determined to go to the bottom of this matter, and if the parties are apprehended there will be no sham examination but a trial on the merits, and the guilty parties, whoever they may be, will suffer the penalty of the law.

FOUR ARMED MEN

Visalia's Prospects.

VISALIA, March 21.—For the last two days the weather has been clear with cold nights. Monday night the pumps froze and there was a heavy frost killing at least half the prospective apricot crop of the county. The frost did not affect the peaches as that crop is not yet on. One result of the recent rains is a marked increase of business confidence based on the prospect for a good crop. The railroad company to-day sold land of nearly eight hundred dollars value, and crop mortgages are coming in rapidly, while heretofore they have been very scarce. Real estate transfers, which were checked by the prospect of a dry season, have suddenly recovered activity and are having a boom. The grain crop is fully assured, but the prospect of continued frosts make the outlook for fruit very doubtful.

Desperados Pulled.

LITTLE ROCK, March 21.—The police to-night arrested three noted desperadoes, "Yaller Hammer," Bill Meyers and Red McGinnis, who were concocting a plan to rob the Iron Mountain train.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Chinese Bill Holds the Boards—Rosecrans Ill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21st.—The discussion of the Chinese bill in the House will be resumed to-morrow and will probably be allowed to continue until about 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, when, according to Page's present intention, he will demand the previous question. The friends of the bill do not think it advisable to limit the debate to any earlier period. The Pacific Coast members are meanwhile assiduously laboring to gain votes, both among the Republicans and the Democrats, and are satisfied that they lose nothing by delay. Page, who has immediate charge of it, will endeavor to prevent the adoption of any amendment, and for reasons heretofore stated is particularly earnest in refusing to give his consent to any reduction of the time of suspension. By maintaining this stand he has to encounter serious embarrassments which were not experienced in the Senate, namely, a positive knowledge on the part of many members that President Arthur would like to have the period of suspension

REDUCED TEN YEARS,

And they have widely circulated the rumor that in case the bill be brought to him without this amendment of its twenty years' suspension clause, he will veto it on the ground of alleged infraction of the spirit of the treaty. These reports, although the latter finds few believers in unprejudiced circles, are exerting a considerable amount of influence in the House and their circulation is industriously promoted by what seems to be a pretty well organized lobby made up of representatives of the Chinese Six Companies, New York and Boston shipping interests and sentimentalists from all parts of the country.

ROSECRANS ILL.

General Rosecrans was confined to his room to-day by threatened erysipelas in his wounded foot. He hopes to be at the capitol by Wednesday to speak and vote on the Chinese bill.

Features of the Flood.

ST LOUIS, March 21.—The clerk of the steamer City of Providence, just from Vicksburg, gives some information about the floods in the lower river not before published. The worst point on the whole river is Milliken's Bend. There is overflow and counter overflow in that district. The waters from the Mississippi are going over the levee and the floods of backwater from the Yazoo are coming in from behind. When these two meet a whirlpool is formed which destroys everything in its course. The locality of the whirlpool is changing constantly, and every day it completes new destruction. A large yawl filled with negroes was caught in it the other day and upset and all the occupants were drowned. The whirlpool struck a church a few days ago, in which several people, with their stock, had been taking refuge. The church was in a few minutes torn to pieces and carried away, the stock drowned and the people floated around in the water some hours, but were finally rescued. The whirlpool struck the residence and the stable of an old paralytic farmer by the name of Jamieson, and totally annihilated them. The old gentleman was drowned.

A Mastodon's Skeleton Unearthed.

CHICAGO, March 21.—The skeleton of a mastodon was unearthed Saturday at Genessee, Illinois, but was so badly decayed that it fell to pieces in being taken out. One tooth was three inches across.

Petitioning the President.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Fifty-one officers and teachers in the Chinese Sunday School have united to-day in a petition to the President to veto the Chinese bill.

Absorbing the Opposition.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Good authorities say that the Mutual Union Telegraph Company is about to be consolidated with the Western Union.

The Georgia Independents.

ATLANTA, March 21.—Leading Independents of Georgia, in caucus to-day, formulated an address to the people urging the formation of a new party, and calling for a mass-meeting here of the Georgia Independents on June 1st.

Decoyed and Killed.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—At St. Helena this morning Wm. J. Gans shot and killed J. C. Weinberger and instantly committed suicide by shooting himself. The cause of the trouble is unknown. Gans decoyed Weinberger from San Francisco on a plea of business.

AFTERNOON STOCKS.

Virginia, 80c; Curry, 3; Mexican, 7¼; Ophir, 3¼; Union, 10; Nevada, 7¼; Eureka, 24; Alpha, 80c; Jacket, 1; Overman, 30c; Point, 40c; Belcher, 50c; Utah, 3¾; Diablo, 5¼; Belle, 8¼; Bullion, 60c; Bodie, 4¼; Savage, 95c.

GARFIELD'S tomb is still guarded by a detachment of soldiers, and night and day the tramp, tramp of the sentry does not cease. The casket may be seen through the grated doors of the vault. The funeral car is enclosed in a glass house at the base of the hill on which the monument is to be erected.

HOUSEHOLD.

SONG OF THE CAKE.

With features heated and red,
With head that throbs and aches,
A woman stands in the kitchen
Turning buckwheat cakes.

Bake! bake! bake!
In Autumn, Winter and Spring,
And still with a voice of tremulous quake
She but of cake doth sing.

Beat! beat! beat!
While the batter is foaming high,
And bake! bake! bake!
Till it seems that man must die,

But no—he bears himself bravely,
And the woman continues to bake,
Spreading and lifting and turning,
While the man he takes the cake.

HOW TO TREAT BURNS.

A saline lotion, or saturated solution of the bicarbonated soda in either plain water or camphorated water, if applied speedily, or as soon as possible, to a burned or scalded part, is most effectual in immediately relieving the acute burning pain, and when the burn is only superficial, or not severe, removes all pain in the course of a very short time, having also the very great advantage of cleanliness, and, if applied at once, of preventing the usual consequences—a painful blistering of the skin, separation of the epidermis, and perhaps more or less of suppuration.

For this purpose all that is necessary is to cut a piece of lint, or old soft rag, or even thick blotting paper, of a size sufficient to cover the burned or scalded parts, and to keep it constantly well wetted with the sodaic lotion so as to prevent its drying. By this means it usually happens that all pain ceases in from a quarter to half an hour, or even in much less time.

When the main part of a limb, such as the hand and fore-arm, or the foot and leg, has been burned, it is best, when practicable, to plunge the part at once into a jug, or pail, or other convenient vessel filled with the soda lotion, and keep it there until the pain subsides; or the limb may be swathed or encircled with a surgeon's cotton bandage previously soaked in the saturated solution, and kept constantly wetted with it, the relief being usually immediate, provided the solution be saturated and cold.

What is now usually sold as bicarbonate of soda is what I have commonly used and recommended; although this is well known to vary much in quality according to where it is manufactured; but it will be found to answer the purpose, although probably Howard's is most to be depended on, the common carbonate being too caustic. It is believed that a large proportion of medical practitioners are still unaware of the remarkable qualities of this easily-applied remedy, which recommends itself for obvious reasons.—Popular Science Monthly.

BENEFIT OF LAUGHTER.

It is said by good authority that there is not the remotest corner nor inlet of the minute blood-vessels of the human body that does not feel some wavelet from the convulsions occasioned by good, hearty laughter, and also that the "central man," or life principle, is shaken to its innermost depths, sending new tides of life and strength to the surface, and thus materially tending to insure good health to the persons who indulge therein. The blood moves more rapidly—probably caused by some chemical or electric modification occasioned by the convulsion—and conveys a different impression to all the organs of the body as it visits them on that particular mystic journey, when the man is laughing, from what it does at other times.

For this reason every good, hearty laugh in which a person indulges tends to lengthen his life, conveying, as it does, new and distinct stimulus to the vital forces. We doubt not that the time will come when physicians—conceding more importance than they now do to the influence of the mind upon the vital forces of the body—will prescribe to the torpid and melancholy patient a certain number of hearty peals of laughter, to be undergone at stated periods, and believe that they will, in so doing, find the best and most effective method of producing the required effect upon the patient. Our advice is, indulge in good, hearty, soulful laughter, when the opportunity offers, and, if you do not derive material benefit therefrom, charge us with offering false principles of materia medica.

HEALTHFULNESS OF FRUIT.

Fresh, ripe, perfect, raw fruit is safe and healthful at all seasons of the year, and amid the ravages of disease, whether epidemic, endemic or sporadic, general, special or local. Under proper restrictions as to quantity, such fruit as named will cure a diarrhœa, aid in removing a cold, colic, fever or any other disease whose treatment requires the bowels to be kept freely open; for this effect, fresh, ripe fruit is acknowledged to have; but to be used advantageously in health and disease, the following rules are imperative:

1. Fruit should be eaten ripe, raw, fresh and perfect.
2. It should be eaten in moderation.
3. It should be eaten not later than four o'clock in the afternoon.
4. No water or fluid of any description should be swallowed within an hour after eating fruit.
5. To have its full beneficial effect, nothing else should be eaten at the time the fruit is taken.

It is to the neglect of these observances that erroneous impressions prevail in many families, and to an extent, too, in some instances, that the most luscious peach, or apple, or bunch of grapes, is regarded as that much embodied cholera and death. When will men learn to be observant and reflective?—Journal of Health.

HOW PEOPLE GET SICK.

By wearing thin shoes.
By eating too much and too fast.
By swallowing imperfectly masticated food.
By taking too much fluid at meals.
By keeping up constant excitement.
By taking meals at irregular intervals.
By drinking poisonous whisky and other intoxicating drinks.
By keeping late hours at night and sleeping too late in the morning.
By wearing clothes too tight, so as to relax circulation.
By neglecting to wash the body sufficiently to keep the pores open.
By starving the stomach to gratify a vain and foolish passion for dress.
By fretting the mind with borrowed troubles.
By swallowing quack medicines for every imaginary ailment.
By exchanging the warm clothes worn in a warm room during the day for costumes and exposure incident to evening parties.

THE CATALPA TREE.

It is believed, says the Redding Independent, that the railroad tie of the future will be cut from the catalpa tree. The Fort Scott, Texas and Gulf Railroad have planted eighty acres of young trees, and the Iron Mountain Railroad have planted one hundred acres, near Charleston, Mo. On the track bed of the latter company ties of this wood have laid in the muddy silt of the Mississippi for twelve years, and are still in a good state of preservation. They have outlasted two sets of white ties, and bid fair to survive the third.

SWEET PEACE.

Thanks to the Republican party, the country is enjoying a season of peace that is most gratifying to the humanitarian and the thoughtful patriot. Save the heavy taxes necessitated by the rebellion forced upon the country by the slaveocracy, the people are enjoying the fruits of their labors to the fullest possible extent. And through the excellent financial management of the administration of President Hayes, such is the credit of the nation and that of its leading corporations, that money to any amount needed to open up our country can be obtained without difficulty at the lowest rates of interest. As the result of this, business is at a boom in all our borders, and the hand of industry is filled with the goods of the earth. It is the day of rest that is welcome. It is the fruit of the labors of the good and wise during the past century. It is the beginning of the days in which the principles of equality shall have influence in shaping our laws, and the dark hands of slavery and the bloody sword of war shall no more oppress and slay the humblest of God's creatures. It is a welcome day. Let the people decide that under no pretence they will do aught to disturb the harmony existing—the fruits of Republican rule.

CAUSE OF THE TERRIBLE RAILROAD DISASTER.

Our readers will remember the recent railroad disaster on the Hudson River Railroad. It appears in testimony that by the setting of a brake the train was brought to a halt, and by thus being thrown off its time, was run into by another train, with frightful results and loss of life. It also appears clear that the brakes were not applied by any attache of the train. The conductor testified that "the cause of the accident was rum. All through the cars they were passing bottles freely, drinking, smashing hats, and singing songs. He had no control over them. They were apparently sober when they boarded the train, but became intoxicated after they had started. There is always more or less drinking and general hilarity on the Friday trains from Albany. There were ex-coroners, Senators, Assemblymen, and other office-holders on the train. He guessed that everybody there was familiar with the conduct of passengers on the trains from the State capital. He supposed that some of the jurors had witnessed such scenes as those he referred to."

CALIFORNIA.

Ex-Governor Hendricks made a speech at a recent gathering in San Francisco in response to a sentiment—"Our Country." He pictured a journey from Boston to San Francisco by rail, and said:

"Seven days and seven nights will pass as the train flies onward before we hear the ceaseless murmur of the Pacific. Such a journey from Paris coastward would carry us beyond Europe and far into Asia. The line of our travel marks and measures the great extent of our country. The same flag remains over us. We start from the landing place of the Mayflower, and will stop alongside the great steamers that are in our trade with China and and Japan. All the way our hearts are cheered with the music of active industry, and towns and cities are our mile posts. As we pass New York and Chicago, we take off our hats in recognition of the indomitable genius and successful enterprise. All the way in every employment and pursuit, health, energy and courage compel success; and the numerous trains we meet carrying our products to their markets answer the inquiry why the balance of trade with foreign countries has been so largely in our favor. On the summit of the mountains, as we gaze upon the distant plains toward the Atlantic and toward the Pacific, the spirit of our country is upon us and assures us that in every element of wealth and greatness we are to lead all the nations, if we but dwell together in peace and harmony. San Francisco is the New York of the Pacific coast. It commands the commerce of the East and the trade of the Pacific Slope with its gold and its silver and its products of the soil. We will go out upon the Bay as far as the Golden Gate, the great entry to our country from the Pacific. It can be securely defended, and the defenses already completed are probably impregnable. We cannot remain longer at San Francisco. Of course we will return by the Southern route; next time it will be by the Northern Pacific route. The train cannot wait for us to visit the vineyards and orange groves of Los Angeles, or San Gabriel, or San Bernardino. Fruit of the richest quality and wines of the finest flavor, and of great value, are here produced. I cannot conceive of anything, not even the magnolia, more beautiful than an orange tree when ripe fruit and blossom mingle with the foliage of deepest green. It was a beautiful conception of the Spaniard to call this the land of the angels."

BY THE WAY.

A Special Correspondent's Notes on Westminster.

Taylor & McCoy have ten acres recently purchased from Miss McCoy they are setting out deciduous fruit trees and grape vines. They will shortly engage in fruit drying also.

Wm. Mallett has eighty acres, been here six years, has been through the worst phase of Westminster's affairs, and is going to remain and share in its continuous prosperity. He contemplates engaging largely in the stock business, and with that view will raise corn, barley, alfalfa and potatoes on an extensive scale. He has some fine apple, pear, peach and apricot trees, yielding abundantly, also one-hundred chickens, and makes forty pounds of butter per week.

Geo. Mack has forty acres, been here seven years, raised five-hundred centals of corn last season, also alfalfa, potatoes, deciduous fruits, muscat grapes, and about thirty hogs. Mr. Mack is one of the best men in the colony, industrious and enterprising in secular and religious matters, the efficient superintendent of the Congregational Church Sabbath School.

F. T. Mundell has been here six years, rents forty acres of land, raises alfalfa, corn, beets, potatoes, poultry, muscat grapes; realized among other things 230 sacks of corn last season and nearly three tons of grapes.

D. McMillan has a small broom factory in operation; expects to enlarge as the demands for brooms will justify him in doing.

Wm. Ball late of Norwich, Ct. recently purchased eighty acres, adjoining Mrs. West. Mr. Ward has just completed a house for him costing about $1,000. He will raise corn, alfalfa, apples, pears, apricots, peaches and grapes and proposes to stay.

A. Spruce has been here eight years; raises corn, alfalfa, apricots, apples, pumpkins etc.

James Tetlow, has been here seven years, has forty acres, raised last season 400 centals of corn, ten sacks of onions 200 pounds of Lima beans, fifty sacks of potatoes, thirty tons of pumpkins, one-half ton of Muscat grapes from one year old vines, has 1,000 deciduous fruit trees and is preparing to set out 500 more. Mr. Tetlow is a hard worker and has made a beautiful home in Westminster through thrift and industry, moreover a firm believer in the permanent prosperity of the colony.

D. G. Griswold, has been here seven years; has 400 acres, raises corn, barley, alfalfa, pumpkins, deciduous fruits, has 500 fruit trees in all, keeps about 130 hogs. He raised about 1,500 sacks of corn last season. He will put in thirty acres of alfalfa this season, and is now setting out ten acres of willows. He has two fine groves of eucalyptus trees each 500 and 1,000 trees.

James Beckwith has forty acres; raises corn, barley, alfalfa, pumpkins, etc., sold 120 centals of corn last season.

J. Giberson, has been here four years, has eighty acres, raises corn, wheat, barley, alfalfa, realized one-hundred sacks of barley besides a large number of hogs and a good crop of beans and potatoes, for sale over and above house needs.

P. Lyon has seventy-three and three-fourths acres; raises corn, alfalfa, pumpkins, he proposes to engage extensively in stock raising.

B. F. Townsend has 115 acres raises corn, barley, alfalfa potatoes; pumpkins, and deciduous fruits, will put in fifteen acres more deciduous fruits this season.

Robt. Dunn, has twenty acres; raises principally alfalfa, deciduous fruits, grapes and also some stock.

W. R. Farrington has forty acres raises barley, corn, alfalfa, grapes and apples.

F. J. Rogers has forty acres; raises alfalfa, corn, pumpkins, barley wheat, potatoes, and poultry; realized $150 from hogs last season.

E. Silkwood has twenty acres; raises similar crops.

W. M. Lampson has 130 acres raises corn, barley, alfalfa, wheat, pumpkins and deciduous fruits, has also six acres of vineyard.

Mrs. M. A. Hansler has forty acres; raises corn, alfalfa, wheat, pumpkins, deciduous fruits and grapes; considers the outlook for the future very good.

Judge Josiah McCoy has resided here eight years has 120 acres of land raises corn, barley, wheat, alfalfa, also deciduous fruits notably some very fine varieties of apples samples of which were recently exhibited at the MIRROR office.

He has 175 apple trees also pears, apricots and nectarines and about twelve good cows. The Judge like his brother the doctor, is a pleasant genial gentleman, and it was a pleasure to visit his home and family.

T. H. Kiefhaber came here seven years ago from Indiana on account of his poor health; he has forty acres of a ranch and eight acres in town lots; raises barley, corn, potatoes, alfalfa, hogs, poultry. He has by the way, an excellent carp pond, a rare thing in this vicinity; about one-half an acre in extent, will have four others of two acres each laid out shortly. He has one acre of mission and muscat grapes also a fine orchard of deciduous fruits, notably fine apples some of which were placed on exhibition in the MIRROR office. Mr. Kiebhaber has the leading blacksmith shop in the colony also and is a very enterprising intelligent and much respected citizen. His family are also very hospitable highly genial and respected.

Mustangs on the Rampage.

Yesterday afternoon about four o'clock a team, belonging to Jose Gonzales, hitched on Main street, became frightened at a kite and breaking the post off ran down Main street with the post dangling between them. In turning down Seventh street they caromed on the corner, throwing one of the horses, thereby stopping them in their mad flight. The wagon was demolished. Luckily there was no one in it.

A Curiosity.

W. B. Tullis has a Japanese cutlass in the show window of his jewelry shop on Spring street. It is the identical kind used by the Japs in the process of disemboweling, which they call hari-kari.

THE OLD CROW'S LAMENT.

An old crow sat, one winter's morn,
High up on a sapless limb;
There was no refuge from the storm
That worried and pelted him.

His eye was dim with unbidden tears,
And chattered his beak with cold;
His plumage was torn by the wear of years,
His talons were weak and old.

In low sad notes he made his plaint
To the howling of the blast;
He scarce was heard—his voice was faint—
By the rude winds whirling past.

They lifted his plumage to the sleet,
And shrieked with demoniac glee,
Pressed him to leave his cheerless seat—
Oh, wretched and sad was he!

"I merit," said he, "a better fate.
I've kept the creed of my kind;
Have ever provoked the farmer's hate,
And strewn his hopes to the wind;

"I pluck his corn that springs from earth;
I gather the wheat he sows;
Have pestered him from my very birth—
And that's the religion of crows."

WILLIAM H. RHARD.

An Insult to Orchardists.

ORANGE, March 20, 1882.

There having been several articles appearing in your paper for and against inspection of fruit, I feel that I and all other fruit growers should protest against such an infamous enactment as the bug law proves itself to be. It is not necessary to handle in detail the different features of this enactment to convince the orchardists that the enactors of this law have hurled a terrible insult at our industry, and mention that it is not essential to the interest of horticulture to place over us an expert and a man who in a horticultural point can scarcely distinguish the difference between a scale bug and a louse.

This law insults us because in effect it declares we are not law-abiding citizens, and it places over us an overseer, who would prohibit the shipment of our fruit until we have paid for permission to do so. Is not this an insult and a shocking disparagement to our horticultural skill? Your correspondent from this place, in his explanatory article, which appears in your issue of the 4th inst., suggests that he speaks very learnedly in replying to the Santa Ana tirade as he styles it, and occupies about one-half a column in your paper without saying anything explicit or new on the subject, except that the unearned charges of the inspector at this place are not oppressive.

W. H. WARREN.

Administer the Law.

EDITOR TIMES: There is no question in the mind of any man of ordinary intelligence in this whole State on the subject of whether the Sunday law is correctly, justly, and legally inscribed upon the statute books of California. The Supreme Court, the court of last resort, has said so in language explicit. And, Mr. Editor, I must say I experienced a feeling very akin to chagrin yesterday, upon seeing two attorneys, members of our bar, in Justice Adam's court, attempting to defend a person whom they acknowledge s guilty of a breach of the Sunday law. For what are you contending, gentlemen? Surely not the maintenance of your obligation as barristers! A CHINAMAN.

A Card of Thanks.

On the eve of my departure from Los Angeles I wish to return my grateful thanks to the people of Los Angeles in general, and especially those who so kindly extended aid and support during the illness of my late husband, and also since his death. Therefore, praying that the Father of the widow and orphans will repay their many kindnesses, I remain respectfully, MRS. JAMES BRYDEN.

LOS ANGELES, March 28.

A MURDER MOST FOUL.

A Body Washed Ashore, Naked and the Throat Cut.

Our special correspondent at Santa Ana sends us the following item. The matter seems to be shrouded in mystery:

Yesterday, on the beach, eight miles from San Juan Capistrano, the body of a man, apparently about the age of 25, was found entirely stripped of every vestige of clothing, and having two severe gashes in his throat. R. Eagan took help and, after examining the body, had it buried on the beach. No clue to the perpetrators of the deed at present, or to the name of deceased.

Weather here beautifully warm; can almost see the daily growth on vines, grapes, etc.

Our Roadmaster, aided by private citizens, is making great improvement in the streets of Santa Ana, and not before it was badly needed.

Drinking Chorus of Evil Spirits under direction of Prof. Arevalo, in "Triumph of Love" to-night.

It certainly is duller at the present time than we have ever known it in a residence of eight years. We say this because we think it true. We wish we could insert a real Los Angeles boast, but we cannot go contrary to the facts in the case.—San Diego News.

Messrs. Clark Pinkham, B. F. Patterson and Wm. Achter will arrive in Los Angeles to-day, the first installment of the Muscatine Colony. They are gentlemen of means and will make good citizens. The wife of Mr. Patterson came out with Messrs. Washburne and Hoover some time since.

Mr. L. W. Allum, editor and proprietor of the Oakland Vidette, made this office a very pleasant call yesterday. He has come south in search of a summer home for his wife, who accompanied him, and whose health is somewhat impaired. The place was found at Pasadena and Mrs. Allum duly ensconced. Mr. Allum returned home by last evening's train.

TRAMPS AT SAN FERNANDO.

Two of the Genus Repay a Kindness by Stealing from their Hosts.

A couple of tramps made things rather lively at San Fernando last Sunday. They put in an appearance there Saturday evening, and having no place in which to bestow themselves were kindly tendered shelter by two young sailor boys who are temporarily stopping there, and were taken into their room. During the night the vipers who were being warmed repaid the kindness of their hosts by rifling the boy's pockets of $14 in coin. Discovering their loss in the morning, they charged the tramps with the theft, when the brazen villains cooley laughed in their faces and wanted to know what they were going to do about it. As they took nothing but the coin, which could not be identified, there was no proof against them, though there was not the least doubt of their guilt. The citizens ordered the tramps to leave the place, but as they made no haste to act upon the order and, courting a row with the boys, the young salts sailed in and gave them an unmerciful drubbing. One of the tramps undertook to use his pistol, but bystanders interfered and took it from him, and as soon as the boys had pounded them fourteen dollars' worth they desisted and the scamps were again ordered to leave, which they did, sadder if not wiser men. The pistol was kept as a souvenir and presented to the sailor boys.

THE SUNDAY LAW.

The Initiatory Suit Comes Up Before Judge Adams.

Jacob Phillipi Arraigned—A Jury Secured—How They Regard the Law—The Prosecution Rest.

The first of the Sunday Law cases came up before Judge Adams yesterday in the Police Court, Jacob Phillipi being arraigned on the complaint of Henry King, Chief of Police. A special venire of sixty jurors was called and all responded. Stephen M. White and John F. Godfrey appeared for the defendant, and Assistant District Attorney John C. Morgan for the people. The first twelve names selected were: Thos. Leahy, N. A. Covarrubias, W. B. Tullis, R. Dillon, Fred Linde, W. H. Tuttle, R. C. Collier, R. Boswell, J. M. Riley, D. Ullman, J. J. Woodworth and H. B. Fox. Examination of their qualifications to act as trial jurors then commenced. Judge Morgan read the warrant of arrest and Sections 300 and 301 of the Penal Code, the so called Sunday Law. The following are some of the regular questions put by Judge Morgan to each juror: Name? Occupation? Residence? Do you belong to any society or organization of which the defendant is a member? Do you belong to the League of Freedom? Have you asserted to any one or pledged yourself in any way to defeat the enforcement of this law? As a juror, would you in trying this case feel yourself bound to respect the enforcement of this law, when violated, as you would the enforcement of any other law? In the event that the defendant should be proven to have violated this law, would you have any scruples in bringing in a verdict of guilty? Have you such a state of mind that you can without bias act impartially and fairly in this case?

Thomas Leahy, N. A. Covarrubias, W. B. Tullis and R. Dillon were each examined. Fred Linde was excused because he did not think there would be evidence enough to convict a man under that law; was not pledged to resist the enforcement of the law; does not believe in the Sunday law. His challenge was allowed by the court, denied by the defendant's counsel, and an exception noted. This was the way every challenge, question and adverse ruling was treated by the defense all day. Evidently they intend to make a desperate fight all up through the courts.

W. H. Tuttle was then examined—Reside in Los Angeles; manufacturer; don't belong to the League of Freedom; saw in the papers that Jake Phillipi would be arrested; have formed no opinion as to his innocence or guilt; respect this the same as any other law; would have no scruples of finding him guilty if warranted by the evidence; can act fairly and impartially.

R. J. Collier was next examined—Reside in Los Angeles; have seen Jake Phillipi; don't belong to the League of Freedom; would have no scruples about finding the defendant guilty according to the evidence; would try the case fairly and impartially as he understood the evidence.

R. Boswell, examined—Am an expressman; reside in Los Angeles; do not know the defendant; do not belong to the League of Freedom; am not pledged to defeat the law; consider it the same as any other law, have no scruples about conviction; would be fair and impartial.

J. M. Riley, examined—Have resided in Los Angeles sixteen years; am a contractor and builder; know the defendant; have heard the case talked about, and saw it in the papers; have no opinion as to his innocence or guilt; feel the same respect for this law as any other; not pledged to defeat its enforcement; can act impartially, would act the same as in any other case.

D. Ullman, examined—Reside in Los Angeles; merchant; know the defendant; am not a member of the League of Freedom; heard about the case; have an unqualified opinion as to the defendant's guilt; my mind is pretty well made up; my opinion is of such a character it would make me render a verdict contrary to the law and evidence. Challenged; exception noted.

J. J. Woodworth, examined—Reside in Los Angeles; am a grocer; do not belong to the League of Freedom; only know what I saw in the papers; have an unqualified opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused; think I could render a verdict on the evidence of the case. Challenged; exceptions noted.

H. B. Fox, examined—Reside in Los Angeles; dry goods merchant; know the defendant; have no opinion in the case; do not belong to the League of Freedom; have never pledged to defeat this law; would feel bound to enforce it; would bring in a verdict of guilty if the evidence was sufficient; could try the case impartially.

The hour of 11:45 A. M. had come, and the nine jurors were passed for cause. The prosecution excused Mr. Dillon, and defense excused Messrs. Tuttle, Riley, Boswell, Collier and Fox. Messrs. Leahy, Covarrubias and Tullis were then sworn in to act as trial jurors, and the court, after charging the jury, adjourned till 1:15 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The court re-assembled at the hour appointed, and the following persons, nine in number, were sworn. Judge Morgan then read the law and the complaint.

R. Patterson, examined—Have resided in Los Angeles for seven years; clerk in a hardware store; know Phillipi by sight; saw about the case in the papers; have expressed no opinion of guilt or innocence of the party; do not belong to the League of Freedom; am not pledged to defeat this law; respect it, and would convict the guilty; would render a verdict in accordance with the evidence in the case.

W. S. Maxwell, examined—Am a grain merchant; lived seven years in Los Angeles; have known Phillipi by sight all the time; have my opinion as to his guilt or innocence; have my prejudice against the law; never pledged myself to defeat it. Challenged.

Mr. Godfrey then asked the statutory question, whether the state of his mind is such as would prevent him, in the event of his sitting on the jury, from a verdict against the accused according to evidence. Answered: "I think it is."

A. H. Miller—Reside in Los Angeles; have no occupation; have known the defendant personally for five or six years; have heard about the case; have a qualified opinion; do not belong to the League of Freedom; am not pledged to defeat the law; have my mind made up to defeat the enforcement of the law. Challenge denied by the defense.

To Col. Godfrey—If I was sworn to give a verdict on the evidence I would, but my prejudice would influence the verdict. Challenge allowed, and exception noted.

C. C. Cheeseborough, examined—Am a cigar manufacturer; have known the defendant five years; have no opinion as to his innocence; am a member of the League of Freedom; have not contributed money as a member of the league for the purpose of defending any party violating this law; am

NOT PLEDGED

To defeat the enforcement of this law; feel bound to respect its enforcement as much as any other; have no scruples to bring in a verdict of guilty; am prejudiced against the enforcement of this law; my prejudice would not influence my verdict. The challenge was denied.

Col. Godfrey then asked the statutory qestion, the same as asked Mr. Maxwell, to which Mr. Cheesebrough replied, "Yes, sir."

Francis Baker, examined—Have resided in Los Angeles city for thirty odd years; am a cabinet maker; have known the defendant ever since he has been here; have heard nothing more than what I have read in the papers; have no opinion as to his innocence or guilt; belong to a society of which he is a member, but not the League of Freedom; am not pledged to defeat the law; as a juror would always vote for the enforcement of any law, don't care what law; have no scruples, and can give a fair verdict.

L. Polaski, examined—Have known the defendant for sixteen or seventeen years; have heard something about the case; belong to a society that Phillipi does, but not the League of Freedom; am prejudiced against the law; might have scruples about convicting; my prejudice will influence my verdict. Challenged and denied by the defence. The statutory question was asked by Col. Godfrey, when the answer was, "my prejudice would not influence my verdict," after the Court had failed to find out which statement was true, the juror was excused.

M. L. Gilman, examined—Have resided in Los Angeles nine years; am a clerk; have somewhat known the defendant from three to five years; have no opinion in the case; do not belong to the League of Freedom; respect this as well as other laws; have no scruples about a verdict of guilty; will render a verdict in accordance with the evidence.

A. A. Hoyt, examined—Have resided in the city for four or five years; am a furniture dealer; don't know the defendant; have heard the case all day; have expressed no decided opinion for innocence or guilt; am not pledged to defeat the law; regard it the same as any law; will have to hear evidence on the law before finding a verdict; would act upon what I thought the law was. Challenged.

A. B. Chapman, examined—Reside in Los Angeles; am a hardware merchant; don't know the defendant or the case, except what I saw in the papers; not a member of the League of Freedom; am not pledged to defeat the law; respect it; would render a verdict in accordance with the evidence in the case.

The jurors were then passed for cause.

Godfrey—Mr. Gilman, are you a member of any church?

Gilman—No, sir.

Godfrey—Mr. Chapman, are you a church member?

Chapman—Not in this town.

Judge Morgan—Mr. Cheesebrough is excused.

The following four named persons were then sworn to act as trial jurors: C. B. Patterson, Francis Baker, M. L. Gilman and A. B. Chapman.

The following five jurors were then summoned for examination: Charles Gerson, L. Langstadter, Charles Wickman, H. C. Graham and M. A. Marshall.

Charles Gerson, examined—Reside in Los Angeles; have known the defendant twelve years; know nothing more than what I saw in the papers; not a member of the League; was not pledged; had no scruples; would give a fair verdict.

L. Langstadter, examined—Kept books and stationery; answered same as above.

Charles Wickman—No occupation given; had been here nine months; the rest as above; only an Odd Fellow.

M. A. Marshall—Contractor and builder; some as above; only an Odd Fellow.

H. C. Graham—Real estate agent; same as above; is a Good Templar.

Messrs. Gerson and Langstadter were excused by the prosecution, and Graham by the defense.

Messrs. Wickman and Marshall were then sworn in as trial jurors.

George Scoville, Simon Stoll and John Mott were called at 2:40 P. M. The complaint and law were read.

George Scoville—Carpenter; read about the case in a paper this morning; not a leaguer; no scruples.

Simon Stoll—Reside in Los Angeles; newsdealer and stationer; have known the defendant twelve years; am a member of the League of Freedom; have contributed means; don't know for what purpose; the league is for mutual protection against persecution; understand it to be organized partially for the resistance of this law; am not pledged to defeat the law; would not feel bound to respect this law as any other law. Challenged.

John Mott, not being on the assessment roll, was excused.

Messrs. F. E. Brown and S. Strohm were then sworn. Brown wanted to know if it was a law—third in this fix. This ignorence would not do for a jury. Mr. Strohm, being a member of the M. E. Church, was not wanted by the defense.

James Entwistle, farmer, and L. Lewin, wholesale liquor dealer, were examined, accepted and sworn as trial jurors. Neither were leaguers.

At 3:30 P. M. the jury stood complete as follows: Thomas Leahy, N. A. Covarrubias, W. B. Tullis, N. Patterson, Francis Baker, M. L. Gilman, A. B. Chapman, Geo. Scoville; J. Entwistle, L. Lewin and M. A. Marshall.

THE TESTIMONY.

After a short recess the testimony for the prosecution commenced:

James Thompson, sworn—Jailor; resided in Los Angeles since 1850; was here last Sunday; know Phillipi; did not see him Sunday; was there on Sunday; was there to get some medicine, a whisky cocktail; his place is not a drug store; saw others drinking something, don't know what; took the cocktail at the bar; it is on Market street.

Mr. Baer, sworn—Have resided here eleven years; was here last Sunday, the 19th instant; know Phillipi; think I saw him that day; played several games of whist there that day; did not pay any drinks nor had any given me; received some cigars from two gentlemen there; I don't know their names.

Mr. Moore, sworn—Am acquainted with Mr. Phillipi; his place of business is down in this block; went there Sunday; saw no one in particular; was with Mr. Thompson; took a drink; procured the liquor of the barkeeper; saw the name over the sidewalk of "J. A. Phillipi."

W. W. Robinson, sworn—Am City Clerk and Clerk of the Council; am acquainted with Phillipi; his place of business is in this building; he keeps a saloon or bar; have seen him there a number of times; have issued a license.

C. H. Pennington, sworn—Am a clerk; was in Phillipi's saloon Sunday evening; saw business transacted by drinks being sold; saw a sign on a partition saying "Jake Phillipi;" rent him, Mr. Phillipi, the building; he has not paid me for five months; his barkeeper or clerk generally does that.

Joseph Lynch, sworn—Publish a newspaper; am acquainted with Mr. Jacob Phillipi; he keeps a saloon; I transacted business there last Sunday; I consumed several glasses of beer; the bartender gave them to me.

John Phillipi, sworn—Am barkeeper for Jacob Phillipi; was at the bar Sunday night; it was open for the transaction of business; Jacob Phillipi was there on that day; he knew the saloon was open; I swear that Jacob Phillipi was the owner and proprietor of that saloon that day; he was there from 11 A. M. to 1. P. M.

The testimony for the prosecution rested here. After charging the jury, the court adjourned till 9:30 A. M. to-day.

SUNDAY SERVICE.

The Judgment Day, at the Fort Street M. E. Church.

"God Has Appointed a Day in Which He Will Judge the World in Righteousness"—A Synopsis.

Sunday evening Rev. E. S. Chase, of the Methodist Episcopal church, preached a sermon on the scenes of the judgment, from Acts 17:31: "God has appointed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness by that Man whom He hath ordained." All who have ever lived will then be judged. There is a wonderful contrast in which that day will be received. A child greets its parent joyfully and exclaims, "Papa is coming," as it runs to meet him. But let that scene change. Sickness and poverty overtake that family, and when the sheriff walks up the steps to take possession and sell the home, how differently he is received. To one class of men it announces joy and life, to the other it will be sorrow. He then called attention to the preparatory scenes of the judgment. Suddenly, as when a thief breaks into the window, and one is startled by the crash, will the judgment day come. When men are engaged in all the occupations of life, planting and building, suddenly the moon will be turned into blood, the sun will become dark, and the stars shall fall. These are fixed facts, more sure than the rising of to-morrow's sun. The myriads of earth will be assembled; the son of man shall come with all his holy angels, who shall be stationed all over the earth, and bid the dead arise. Adam will then see all his great family. This judgment will not be simply of men, it will be of angels, it will be of the people of all the universe. This is not unreasonable. This world is fast becoming a dead world, as a mansion goes to pieces by the flames. Whole cities will have tumbled together in one promiscuous heap. Nero fiddled while Rome was burning; greater will it be when the whole world shall burn. This is all in accordance with the laws of nature. The interior of the earth is burning lava, which often bursts forth. Then will every knee bow before Him. There are as many cold-hearted infidels in this city, who hate the name of Christ, as did the Jews who smote Him upon the cheek. They will all be there, and do him reverence. The "silence in heaven the space of half an hour" I think is prophetic, and will be just before the judgment. I am inclined to think it will be a literal day. The day will open as usual, and in it every man and woman will receive their sentence. Every man's life, his struggles in honesty. Every toward act and every thought will all appear. Every distinct individual will be judged. "The books will be opened." The Bible will be one, the book of life the other. God will reward every desire. He will reward every noble purpose. He will also reward every evil purpose. It is not necessary to commit the overt act to sin. There will be hundreds of witnesses. Memory, true to her trust, will recall everything. Another witness will be the Devil. He is called the accuser. Satan now pretends to be the sinner's friend; then he will accuse the wicked before Christ, and claim them as his own. He will urge the claim and win it. He disputed about the body of Moses, because he did not want it to appear again in the flesh as at the moment of transfiguration. There will be just one thing in that day worth anything, and that will be a holy character. A New York cashier has such a long experience in handling paper currency that he can tell the bad by its feeling. The speaker could tell a Christian by his looks almost every time. God can every time. Man's life is conscious between death and the judgment. Christ, at the end of centuries, will rise from His mediatorial chair and bid it good bye forever. He will speak to those on His right, "Come, ye blessed of My Father," and to those on his left, "Depart, ye cursed." The separation will be final, never to meet again. Of both classes he enumerates their good and evil deeds respectively.

Two weeks from then he proposed to show there was no future probation. There is one thing more solemn than the judgment: If you go out of this house to-night you go out unsaved!

MANUFACTURES NEEDED.

A Correspondent Encourages the Formation of a Society.

ED. TIMES:—Referring to your article on manufactures in a recent issue, I wish to say I most heartily concur in the sentiment expressed therein, that "manufactures constitute the best possible balance wheel in such emergencies." Yes, you may have added not only in a time of depression in trade, but at all times—when the country is prosperous from other resources manufacturing imparts a vital force that adds very materially to the prosperous condition of any community. I think it a good suggestion that a society be formed in this growing city to promote all manufacturing industries—we all know what manufacturing has done for the rich and populous cities of the east, and there is no reason why the same may not be done in many of the cities on this coast, particularly is this the case of Los Angeles. I do not see how the monied men of this city can remain inactive in this matter without hindering their best interests. Now is the time to move in such matters, and I am glad you are to act in the "aggressive." G. T. H.

Doubtless the Window Smashers in a New Role.

Yesterday morning A. L. Bath, who keeps a wagon shop on Spring street, made the discovery that thieves had entered through his back window and opened his safe through the top with a cold chisel. There was nothing inside but his books, which were not disturbed. This is said to be the third attempt in two weeks. A new crop of State prison mushrooms will spring up, if the police get hold of them.

MISCELLANY.

Self ease is pain; the only rest
Is labor for a worthy end,
A toil that gains with what it yields,
And scatters to its own increase,
And hears while sowing ontward fields
The harvest song of inward peace.

A hen to-morrow is better than an egg to-day.

'Tis the will that makes the action good or ill.

The height of meanness is to exult in its success.

Little things console us because little things afflict us.

The ladies all go to C. F. Niece's Drug Store, 52 Main street, for first-class toilet articles. Try him. ml4-1m

One vice worn out makes us wiser than fifty tutors.

Neither worth nor wisdom comes without an effort.

P. N. O'Donnell, of the Los Angeles Pioneer Iron Foundry and Machine Shop, corner Aliso and Garcia streets, manufactures steam engines, saw and wind mills, pumps, iron castings, etc., etc. Repairing of machinery neatly done. Pattern making of all kinds. Prices reasonable. mar11-1m Kindness in return for unkindness is of itself a reproof.

What seems only ludicrous is sometimes very serious.

Take your prescriptions to C. F. Niece's Drug Store, 52 Main street, next door to St. Charles Hotel. ml4-1m

An old man repents of that of which a young man boasts.

The heart has reasons that the reason does not understand.

Harbert, 82 Spring street, gives a good lunch for five cents. Soup at all hours. Try him. mr10tf

The man who never excites envy never excites admiration.

Want of care does us more damage than want of knowledge.

Call on Vidal & Castillon, watchmakers and jewelers, 8 Commercial street, when you want repairing of watches or jewelry neatly done at moderate prices. Satisfaction warranted. m19-1m

It is a barren kind of criticism which tells you that a thing is not.

Sow good services, sweet remembrances will grow from them.

The Pacific Wagon Company, Main street, Los Angeles, have a large stock of carriages and wagons, comprising about a dozen different styles in each, and among them a California four-spring wagon warranted to be unexcelled in Southern California. d7-tf

How we do love to shut our eyes to what we fear may be a reality.

A cheerful face is nearly as good for an invalid as healthy weather.—Franklin.

Madame L. Ferrie Delpech, No. 5 Spring St., cuts and makes dresses in most fashionable style and superior manner. She has just brought from San Francisco a choice assortment of silks, velvets, satins and brocades; also trimmings to match. f29-tf

Chapin once said beautiful: "The fatal fact about the hypocrite is that he is a hypocrite."

Cheerfulness is an excellent wearing quality. It has been called the bright weather of the heart.

Impoliteness is derived from just two sources—indifference for the divine and contempt for the human.

As any one is more wise, he is more sparing of his censures.

The California Bakery, upper Main street, is the best place in the city for bread, pies, cakes, etc., of every description. Give me call, I will guarantee satisfaction. j4-tf

The proof of a strong will is its graceful surrender on proper occasions.

A good book is a man's truest friend and best companion.—[Mary W. Spaulding.

If one has faith, it will make itself evident. Faith gives courage to work in such a way as to succeed.

As Beethoven entranced a world with symphonies he could not hear, so may we make others happy though miserable ourselves.

Poverty is the only burden which grows heavier in proportion to the number of dear ones who have to bear it.—Richter.
